ORDER

19 Shiyang Huang, who has submitted a claim as a member of the indirect purchaser class, 20 has filed a “Motion for Clarification on [ECF 2942] Regarding Incentive Awards for Indirect 21 Purchaser Plaintiffs.” Huang requests the court to order IPP class counsel “to clarify whether IPP 22 named plaintiffs are moving for any incentive awards, prior to the deadline for objections.”

23 Huang’s motion is premised on a mistaken belief that the previously ordered “service 24 awards” have been vacated or that the issue of the propriety of those awards is otherwise still open 25 to question. Huang’s theory is that the Ninth Circuit’s opinion vacating the prior awards of 26 attorney fees and expenses also automatically vacated the service awards, because they had been 27 sought in the same underlying motions.

28 The service awards were not challenged in the appeals to the Ninth Circuit, and the court

1 did not address them. That the court vacated the attorney fee and expense awards did not somehow 2 invalidate other provisions in the orders making those fee and expense awards, which were not the 3 subject of the appeals. In short, the prior order for service awards remains in effect, the time to 4 challenge those awards has long since expired, and the named plaintiffs are not obligated to 5 “reapply” for them. Except to the extent this order may itself provide the clarification Huang was 6 seeking, the motion is denied.
